SPONSORS

eduCLIMBER is a comprehensive data management platform helping over 30,000 educators do more with their academic and behavioral data. More than a data warehouse or location to enter scores, we provide a holistic view of your district for all academic and behavioral activities. Drill into data from the district down to the student level. Staff can easily share information (think Pinterest-style sharing) and you'll have the documentation you need to support your decisions. Data is just the beginning!

Renaissance Learning™ creates assessment and practice solutions that put learning analytics to work for educators, saving hours of prep time while making truly personalized learning possible. Schools nationwide use our solutions to analyze students' abilities and guide high-quality instruction. We help teachers teach better, students learn better, and school administrators lead better—all to improve academic outcomes.

(athletic bags for the 100 year celebration are sponsored by Renaissance, please offer them a kind thank you!)*
